

BITS OF WISDOM

When you are blowing your whistle, you are losing steam.

There are no holds barred when you are wrestling with your conscience.

It's hard to keep a cool head when you are hot under the collar.

When it comes to sowing wild oats, we all have a green thumb.

When a person brags about being open minded—he has a hole in his head.

There is no right way to do the wrong thing.

To leave your mark in life—put it above the reach of others.

The golden rule—not the rule of gold.

Blowing out the other fellow's candle won't make yours shine any brighter.
